

¡Viva la música! with Oscar Navarro

Spanish composer Oscar Navarro presents the American premiere of “Clarinet Concerto N° 3” with the Downey Symphony Orchestra as part of its “¡Viva la música!” concert.

In honor of Downey’s Latino and Spanish community, the Downey Symphony Orchestra features Downey Overture by Óscar Navarro, Andalucía Suite by Ernesto Lecuona, Clarinet Concerto N° 3 by Óscar Navarro featuring Clarinetist David van Maele, Estancia Suite by Alberto Ginastera, and Bolero by Maurice Ravel.

ABOUT ÓSCAR NAVARRO

Winner of the Hollywood Music in Media Awards and Nominee in the 2014 Goya Spanish Academy Awards, film composer Óscar Navarro has received many awards including the 10th Cinematography Music Critics Awards, Mundo BSO Awards, XIII Goldspirit Awards, Global Music Awards, Accolade Music Awards.

Navarro studied composition and conducted Valencia’s Allegro International Music Academy with his mentor and friend Ferrer Ferrán. Shortly after he was selected by the prestigious University of Southern California Thornton School of Music to study scoring for motion picture and TV, he recorded music for major Los Angeles studios such as Capitol Records, Paramount Pictures and Warner Bros, and also for European studios (Kiev Radio Symphony Orchestra, Macedonia Symphony Orchestra and Spain’s Cordoba Symphony Orchestra.) After finishing his studies, he received the Harry Warren Endowed Scholarship for Scoring for Motion Pictures and TV as the most advanced graduating student on his course.

In the film industry, Navarro has written music for feature films, short films and documentaries. His work for La Mula (The Mule) was nominated for Best Original
