

9th Annual Cine Latino Film Fest

The 9th annual “Cine Latino Film Festival MSP” will be a hybrid event, featuring 20+ films, conversations, and in-person and online events.

This year, the festival highlights and honors African heritage’s impact on and contributions to Latin American and Ibero history, communities and cultures through cinema.

Cine Latino is the region’s only showcase of new cinema by artists from U.S. Latino, Latin American and Iberian communities and regions, with vast cultural, linguistic, social and historical wealth. Cine Latino annually features premiere screenings, retrospectives of work by established artists, visiting guests and artists, conversations with filmmakers and talent from around the globe.

- Online screening available October 8–17. Buy tickets.
- Directed by Amalia Ulman, Spain, 2021, 79 minutes.
- In Spanish With English subtitles. Watch trailer.

El Planeta is a dark comedy exploring contemporary poverty, female desire, and the always complicated filial relationships of mothers and daughters. A daughter forced to return home after the death of her father, reconnects with her eccentric mother, hustling to maintain the semblance of their middle-class lifestyle in the face of an impending eviction. Over the course of the week, we watch as the daughter's hopes are tested as she attempts to use her sexuality as a means of escape. Meanwhile the mother grifts her way to certain security — the care of a jail cell. Argentinian/Spanish performance artist Amalia Ulman makes her feature film directorial debut and stars opposite her real mother, Ale Ulman.
