

Belén Maya: Romnia

Belén Maya will be performing Romnia at 92Y's Bittenwieser Hall as part of Dig Dance: Weekend Series.

Belén Maya has pursued her career out of the continuous need to explore and study music, theatre, narration, performance, drama and language. Her concept of flamenco feeds on the mixture of literature, yoga, meditation, organic culture, Eastern mysticism and the harmony between her body, mind and spirit.

Romnia explores the two dimensions of Maya's life: her Gypsy ancestry and her femininity. Romnia, "women", in Romany, is a celebration of Gypsiness – a compassionate, sometimes joyful look at the plight of displaced women, whose laughter and mourning are transformed to beauty in motion.

PERFORMING ARTS
NEW YORK

Sat, September 24, 2016

Venue

Bittenwieser Hall, Lexington Avenue at 92nd St, New York, NY 10128

View map

Admission

Buy tickets (from $20)

More information

92Y