

Bubi Canal at Show #14: Trust in Me

The works in this exhibition were selected by Field Projects founders Keri Oldham and Jacob Rhodes from an international open call.

Trust in meeee... is what Kaa the snake hissed to the man-cub Mowgli while attempting to hypnotize and then devour him. In Show #14, the phrase is as entrancing and pointed, but it beckons in more directions than just down Kaa's throat. Here the artists are asking you to follow their intuition and dissolve into their subconscious. Knowing that following another's intuition is counter-intuitive, they simply whisper Trust In Me. You may be consumed at the end—but the trip will be exquisite.

Twelve artists were selected for Show #14 based on themes that emerged in the process of reviewing more than 400 submissions. The exhibition includes artists David Abecassis, Justin Baker, Eric Boucourt, Bubi Canal, John Cichon, Kharis Kennedy, Scott Lickstein, Christopher Moss, Jeremy Olson, Esther Ruiz, Jennine Scarboro, and Brian Willmont.

View Bubi Canal's SPAINRED profile.

VISUAL ARTS
NEW YORK

Thu, June 13–
Sat, July 27, 2013

Venue

Field Projects, 526 West 26th Street #807,
New York, NY 10001

View map

Phone: 323-633-5764

More information

Venue's website

Credits

Organized by Field Projects Gallery.