

Lorca Madly in Love: A Tribute to Garcia Lorca

The true story of Spain's most famous poet, Federico Garcia Lorca and his forbidden love that cost him his life.

In the show Lorca Madly in Love, the story of Spanish poet Federico García Lorca, David Morales and his Flamenco Company, along with Grammy Award-winner Miguel Poveda, showcase a fusion of pure flamenco and contemporary dance in a musical celebration of Spain, its culture, and its people.

In a spellbinding performance, world-renowned David Morales creates a stunning, emotional fusion of heart-stopping flamenco and contemporary dance as never seen before on stage in the art of dance.

Raising flamenco from the stereotypical expectations to a level unseen ever before, the sensuality of a love unspoken is transported from a history book of shame to a celebration of Spain –its culture, people and depth of talent.

PERFORMERS

- David Morales: Flamenco Dancer
- Miguel Poveda: Singer
- Iván Amaya: Contemporary Dancer
- Noelia Sabarea: Dancer
- Daniel Casares: Guitar and Musical Director
- Esperanza León, Kiko Pe?a, and José Montoya: Singers
- David Moreira: Violín
- Guillermo Ruiz: Percussion

PERFORMING ARTS
NEW YORK

Wed, November 25, 2015

Venue

Carnegie Hall, 881 7th Ave, New York, NY 10019

View map

Phone: (212) 247-7800

Admission

Buy tickets